The alteration in the number of the paper between 1774 and 1780 is remarkable. It became a bi-weekly in 1781. This paper was issued weekly up to 1776, at Ten Shillings Annual Subscription. On July 25, 1778, it became tri-weekly, "price Fifteen-pence single, and One Shilling by the quantity." The last vol., 1781, commences bi-weekly without any price, and in August was made tri-weekly at Sixpence. The size was enlarged in Vols. III and IV, and reduced again from the middle of Vol. V to the end of Vol. VII.

- 8451 DOWLAND (J.) FIRST BOOKE OF SONGS OR AYRES OF FOURE PARTS, with Tableture for the Lute, sm. folio, hf. morocco, EXTREMELY RARE, £15. 1613

A peculiar interest attaches to one of the Songs in this first Book (My Thoughts are Winged with Hopes), as the initials W. S. are appended to a Manuscript of it in the Hamburg City Library, and it is therefore supposed to have been written by Shakespeare. Wood praises Dowland as "the rarest Musician of his Time," and Shakespeare, Middleton, and other Dramatists have alluded to his productions.

VERY RARE. This is the second edition of the first treatise on Music which issued from the press after the invention of printing. The woodcuts are curious; a large one on the title represents a man playing on an organ, and another six men beating a tune on an anvil with sledge-hammers, other men playing on bells, glasses, etc.

- 8467 GROVE (G.) A DICTIONARY OF MUSIC AND MUSICIANS (A.D. 1450-1878), by eminent Writers, English and Foreign, 3 vols. 8vo. with illustrations and woodcuts 1878

Fourteen parts at 3s 6d have appeared, and take the Dictionary as far as S.

The work aims at supplying a long-felt want, by giving information in a clear, succinct, and readable form as to the meaning of musical terms; the history of the various branches of the art; the rise and progress of the pianoforte and other instruments; the main facts and characteristics of the lives of eminent or representative musicians, and the circumstances attending the origin of their chief works. The editor, Mr. George Grove, whose name is well known in connection with the Saturday Concerts at the Crystal Palace, has secured the co-operation of all the leading musical authorities in this country and of some eminent foreigners. The publishers therefore feel no doubt that the work has been done as well as possible. Music in England has recently made immense progress, and the number of persons who attend concerts and practise music has very largely increased. It is no longer regarded as a mere idle amusement, but is taking its right place beside the other arts as an object of study and investigation. The demand therefore for such information as this Dictionary of Music will give is naturally very great.

- 8472 ——— the same, 5 vols. 4to. fine copy in russia extra, gilt edges, £8. 8s 1776
- Hawkins' History having met with little success when first published—public attention being at the time engrossed with Burney's work—only a small number of copies were sold, but the value of Hawkins' work as a vast storehouse of curious and interesting information, having in recent times been proved, the commercial value has in consequence risen considerably. Hawkins must receive great credit for minute accuracy and deep research, more particularly in points interesting to the antiquary and the literary world.

- EXTREMELY RARE AND IMPORTANT. "Ce livre est précieux pour l'histoire de l'art et de la science au seizième siècle. Dans aucun livre de ce temps les principes de nuances et de la notation ne sont exposés avec autant de clarté et de concision que dans celui-ci. Les nombreux exemples de Josquin, d'Obrecht, de Senfel, de Henri Isaac, de Ghiselin et d'autres qui s'y trouvent, avec les résolutions des cas embarrassants de l'ancien système de proportions ajoutent encore au prix de cet ouvrage, qui est malheureusement d'une rareté excessive." —Fétis.

 "A fine copy of a most rare book in this exceptional state, with the excessively rare frontispiece by Hudsbergh, representing a concert given in the street by seven musicians, provided with a Salt-box, Bladder and Tongs, etc. The contents are quite worthy of the jovial days of the 'Merrie Monarch.'"—MS. Note. This copy is probably unequalled in its condition.

 A translation of the "Phonurgia Nova." The name of "Agathus Cario" is apparently merely a pseudonym.
- 8493 KORNATZKY (F. W. von) Compendium of Thorough Bass for self-instruction, exemplified on his (the author's) Patent Chord-Denoter, 8vo. sd. 21s 1882
 A remarkable publication. The Compendium of Thorough-Bass itself is most logically compiled, so that the student is conducted from the simple gradually to the difficult. The Patent Chord-Denoter is one of the most simple, but at the same time one of the most ingenious of inventions, founded on the true scientific principle of musical notation, capable of representing more than 1300 different chords—in fact, any chord used in music—and giving to the student the means of checking his own compositions.
 This work makes the study of the art of Thorough-Bass easy and agreeable.

NATIONAL MUSIC, POPULAR SONGS OF ALL COUNTRIES, CHRISTMAS CAROLS.

“The greatest obstacle to information which the student of National Music is likely to encounter, is the difficulty in gaining access to many of the publications bearing on the subject. Every European country ought to possess in its National Library not only all the collections of its own national songs and tunes, but also those of other countries. Most of these publications are out of print, and there is no probability, except in some rare instances, of their being republished. They become daily more scarce, and soon it will be impossible to collect them together, even for a National Library.”

Carl Engel, in the preface to his Literature of National Music.

Mr. Engel's collection, here offered for sale, was the most extensive ever formed.

sine nota [Parisiis, 1548]

"Il parait que cette édition n'a pas été achevée, et qu'elle n'a pas été mise en vente; cependant Baluze en avait réuni quatre exemplaires dont un imprimé sur vélin, et dans tous les quatre la fin du volume manquait."—Brunet. These particulars were only known to Brunet from Baluze's catalogue, but he adds that there was a copy in the Bibl. Nationale on paper, stopping short at p. 448 (probably a mistake), in which it is evident that the Leges Burgundionum (apparently unknown to Brunet) was not included.

Hence we may conclude that of this important EDITIO PRINCEPS only six copies have survived, five upon paper and the present one on vellum.

FAIR-TRADE or FREE-TRADE ?

"Duties ought to be imposed only for the sake of revenue, and to the amount for which they are required.

"If no public revenue were desired, the entire abolition of Customs duties would be an unmixed advantage to the community."

Saturday Review, Sept. 10, 1881, page 320.

I agree with this theory, but in practice revenue is wanted, and is now raised partly by a most infamous, unjust, inquisitorial tax—the INCOME TAX—of which many men pay more than their share and some not enough.

Until the Income Tax is replaced, partly by Licenses, but chiefly by imposts upon foreign goods of which the duties are readily collected, the alleged illogical cry for "fair trading" will find adherents even amongst the tax-paying Free-traders.

"The principles of free trade are not so inelastic as to preclude the taxation of imported luxuries for revenue purposes."—Mr. Gladstone's great Leeds speech, Oct. 9, 1881, as quoted in a leading article in the Times, Oct. 10, 1881.

What else is this than "Fair-trade in disguise?"

The word "protection" has an evil name, but why not treat foreign corn the same as foreign spirits? Considering the painful waste of bread in this country, a few millions of revenue could easily be raised by a fixed duty on corn, such as Lord John Russell proposed thirty years ago. - The inaugural dissertation for which the University of Halle granted to the Author—my brother—the degree of Doctor of Law, a distinction very highly esteemed abroad.

In Germany, Austria, and Switzerland my brother's legal Compendia enjoy a marvellous popularity; every Law-student has to study them to pass his legal examinations.

In England they are hardly known; a French Journal had the following critique:—

“La plupart des auteurs de traités de Droit international se contentent de donner des définitions et de poser des principes, laissant aux lecteurs le soin d'appliquer les règles générales aux faits contemporains. Sous une forme succincte, mais saisissante par sa concision même, l'abrégé du Dr. Quaritsch réunit la théorie et la pratique. L'auteur examine successivement les grandes divisions du Droit international et résume les traités, les événements les plus récents. Après avoir lu les quelques pages consacrées à la question d'Orient et au droit des neutres, tout publiciste peut aborder en pleine connaissance de cause l'examen des problèmes les plus difficiles du droit des gens.”—Journal du Droit internationale privé et de la Jurisprudence comparée. 6me année, 1879, p. 225.

- 9128 RUSSELL (Lord John) Essay on the History of the English Government and Constitution, sm. 8vo. hf. morocco, 7s 6d 1821
“Unfortunately Lord John Russell in the decline of his popularity attempted, in servile imitation of the Reform movement, to renew the triumphs of his youth, and Mr. Disraeli and Mr. Gladstone gambled away in a contest for power the best interests of the country. It is now understood that, in defiance of reason and common sense, the most ignorant, and perhaps the most dangerous, part of the population is to be entrusted with the franchise. Mr. Lecky says in his last published volume, an increase of legislative and administrative wisdom is to be derived from an appeal to ignorance.”—The Saturday Review, June 10, 1882.

Sanctus Albanus (1486)

- 🔍 The first printed English Armorial (second-European).
- 🔍 The first printed book on Field Sports and Heraldry.
- 🔍 The first book with engravings printed in colours.
- 🔍 The first printed book containing English popular rhymes.
- 🔍 One of the rarest books of the early English press.

A common error assigns this work to the authorship of a "Dame Juliana Berners," a supposed "Abbess of Sopwell," a lady of the family of the Lords Berners,—all, as Mr. Blades judiciously points out, on the strength of the following words on the first sign. f4—

"Explicit Dam Julyans
Barnes in her boke of Huntynge."

This inscription really refers to nothing beyond the 23 pp. of verse which preceed it upon "the maner of huntynge for all maner of bestys," in which a Dame addresses "my dere chylde," "my sonnys," "my lief chylde," and uses the following phrase—"Say, chylde, where ye goo, youre dame taght you so." She also instructs them what to do when they have taken a hart, and tells them, after having cut it up,

"Than bryng it boom, and the skynne with all
The nombles and the hornes at the lordis yate
Than boldely blow the price tharat"

—which plainly shows that she did not write, as Mr. Blades imagined, for scions of the aristocracy, but for simple foresters who aided in the chase. Indeed we may go much further and question the very existence of the lady, except as a personification of the Domus Juliani or St. Julian's Hospital near St. Alban's. Her book is the Barnes' book of Hunting, or (as Wynkyn de Worde put it) the Barnes' Doctrine, and is simply a work of rhymed instructions from a supposed schoolmistress (Dame) to her Barns, or school-children. Such a work we can have little difficulty in believing to be the original composition of the mysterious "schoolmaster of St. Albans," personifying thereby the affiliated establishment called the Domus Juliani.

As for the use of the word Barnes or bairns, it occurs frequently in old English books and MSS., and the "schoolmaster" seems from his dialect and spelling to have belonged to Northumberland or Yorkshire.

The special treatise on hunting, which closes with the Explicit above referred to, is followed by a collection of names and properties of beasts of the chase, set forth in rhymed and proverbial sentences, such as "A grehounde shulde be heded like a snake and necked like a drake," etc. "Well travelid women ner well travelid hors wer neuer goode."

"Fer from thy kynnysmen kest thee,
Wrath not thy neighbors next thee,
In a goode corne cuntre threste thee,
And sitte downe Robyn and rest thee."

"Who thet byldys his hous all of salowes
And prickyth a blynde hors ouer the falowys
And suffrith his wyfe to seche mony halowys
God sende hym the blysse of everlastyng galowis."

The type in which the book is printed is very like that which Caxton used in several of his books, but is nevertheless a totally distinct fount, and must have been obtained, along with the paper on which they are impressed, from Flanders. The larger-typed headings are identical with Caxton's No. 3 type, and may have been, as Mr. Blades suggests, printed from the fount which Caxton rejected after several years' use, in 1484. The water-marks in the paper are the same as in the paper used by Caxton, with the exception of the crowned shield, which, as it appears on a thickly printed page, is not very easy to trace, but is evidently a different figure from the shield of France which appears in some of Caxton's paper.

It is interesting from the Shakespearian collector's point of view that we find in the Book of St. Albans a representation of the Lucy Coat of Arms, as borne by Geoffrey or Galfrid de Lucy (in Henry III's time).

MILITARY SCIENCES & HISTORY

Si vis pacem, para bellum. Isolation leads to war; good alliances prevent it.

“When all the world arms and organizes, we, who have most to lose by war, should arm and organize also.”

Saturday Review, March 25, 1882.

“There is only one method of successful defence for a rich country—namely, to meet and defeat the enemy in the field. It is to this end that all our national preparations should be directed, and not to the feeble purpose of hiding armies behind defensive works which need never be attacked.”

Times, April 15, 1882.

"One familiar with this class of literature cannot but be amazed at the absence from the Museum Library of so many books treating of the subject. The writer of this notice has on his own shelves scores of works for which he looks in vain in this Catalogue. It is no excuse for the authorities of the Museum that many of these have been privately printed. There is no such book that could not have been obtained by the expenditure of the smallest effort; and it is unpardonable that the great national library is not in possession of at least every modern work relating to the history of the country."—The Academy, July 23, 1881.

- 9513 BAYLE (P.) Historical and Critical Dictionary, with Life by Des Maizeaux, 5 vols. folio, portrait, very fine copy in russia extra, £6. 6s 1734-38
- "Bayle was a man of immense but desultory reading; of a subtle understanding, invincible patience, and not less indomitable industry. The notes are the grand field in which Bayle delighted to pour forth his knowledge; and I believe that his 'Life of Nero' furnished a Greek quotation at a late state trial. If sceptical, he was peaceably disposed, although constantly assailed. Even his 'magnum opus,' the Dictionary, was criticized before it appeared. Jurieu, Saurin, and Le Clerc were unable to ruffle the calmness of his temper, or embitter the sweetness of his retirement. He told Des Maizeaux, that from twenty to forty he worked fourteen hours a day—and, in fact, that he never knew what leisure was."—Dibdin's Library Companion.

Only 100 copies were printed on large paper, of which the present is number 79. Two of the leaves in the first volume have been obtained from a small paper copy and inlaid to the size required. The work of inlaying, however, has been so cleverly done as to be almost imperceptible.
An important work to Historians as it furnishes a key to the Memoirs of eminent personages.

Coellen, Johan Koelhoff (1499)
This is the work in which Koelhoff the printer gives an account of the Origin of Printing, as described to him by old Ulrich Zell, the first typographer of the city, who was still living. The invention is referred to Johan Gudenburch in 1440, who is said to have brought the art into its perfect form "als dan nu gemeynlich gebrucht wirt" in the year 1450, when he printed the first book—a Bible—in thick characters—"such as now used in Missalbooks." "But the prototype (vurbyldung) was invented in Holland, in the Donatases which had previously been printed there." This last statement has been the occasion of much controversy, and is really the only morsel of veracious evidence upon which the invention of the art was claimed for Holland.

The want of a complete catalogue of English Literature has long been felt by all bibliographers. Watts's Bibliotheca Britannica and Lowndes's Bibliographer's Manual (especially the new edition by Mr. Henry G. Bohn) are both most useful works, but they are somewhat out of date, and at no time could they have been considered as adequate representatives of our noble English Literature. Although it is disgraceful to the nation as a whole that the work has been left undone, blame can hardly be meted out to individuals. There is little inducement to labour in so unprofitable a field, which requires much labour to cultivate, and in which there is no reward to the labourer except his own satisfaction in the result of his work. Both the eminent bibliographers named above, Robert Watts and William Thomas Lowndes, devoted their lives to their self-imposed labours, and their reward was a severe loss. The work is in fact too much for one man to undertake, and it should be carried out by the union of several bibliographers. There is no reason why the same means which were adopted to collect materials for the Philological Society's great Dictionary of the English Language should not be used for the purpose of compiling a Dictionary of English Literature. Whenever such a work is undertaken, the long-continued and most praiseworthy labours of Mr. Hazlitt will be of the greatest use to the compilers. In 1867 Mr. Hazlitt published his Handbook to the Popular Poetical and Dramatic Litera- ture of Great Britain, from the Invention of Printing to the Restoration; a work of special interest as containing titles of ballads, chap-books, plays, and many other curious books which had previously been neglected by bibliographers. There are about 10,000 titles in this volume, half of which were taken from the books themselves, the others from trustworthy sources. The author was not altogether satisfied with the plan he had adopted; and in future he determined to take nothing for granted, but to catalogue each book with the title-page before him. He also determined to widen the scope of his researches, and not to confine himself to Early English poetry and folk-lore. In 1876 appeared Collections and Notes, 1867-1876, which contained titles of books in the whole range of English Literature. Now in the year 1882 we have a second series of these Collections and Notes, which contains still more than its predecessor. Mr. Hazlitt, therefore, prides himself on having given to the world "a total of 21,000 orthodox titles," which is no mean boast. He has largely availed himself in this new book of the information contained in Mr. Arber's Transcripts of the Stationers' Registers; and we thus find a number of entries of books and ballads which were licensed to various printers and publishers that are not known to exist. These entries will be a useful means of identification for some of these books, should copies come to light in the future.

Having dealt to a certain extent in generalities, we will now make a few notes on the contents of the book under our notice. We have alluded in this Journal to the once popular A B C (i, 133, 189). Several editions are mentioned in Mr. Hazlitt's bibliographical works. The one printed by William Powell about 1545, in the Grenville Library, and the much later one printed for the Company of Stationers, are registered in the Collections and Notes. This last is an earlier edition of the one mentioned by Mr. Prosser (i, 189). From the Second Series of Collections we learn that there is a copy of the Stationers' Company's edition among the Bagford Papers, which is dated 1668. Under the heading of Horn Book we find "an A B C, or Horn Book printed at Aberdeen about 1625, a tract of four leaves in the Laing Collection which had once formed a fly-leaf to a copy of Boethius." In a late number of the Notes and Queries a question was printed respecting the Seven Wise Masters of Rome; an answer will be found here in some titles of early editions of the books. Under the heading of Ballads we have a long list of these popular poems which had been licensed to the several printers.

Many persons are under the impression that a mere list of titles must be uninteresting; but this is a very serious mistake, and any one who chooses to look over some of the pages of this book will, we think, soon see cause to alter his opinion. We may quote one or two titles in support of this view:—

"A moste perfect and true Instruction whereby a man may learne by his own industrie to play on the Cyterne without the helpe of any teacher. Licensed to John Danter, 19 Nov. 1593."

"The nature of the drink Kauri or Coffe and the berry of which it is made. Described by an Arabian Physician. Oxford, 1659."

"Coffee-houses vindicated, in answer to the late published Character of a Coffee-house, asserting from Reason, Experience, and good Authors, the excellent use and physical virtues of that liquor, with the grand conveniency of such civil places of resort and ingenious conversation. London, 1674."

We should have been glad if Mr. Hazlitt had been a little more generous in giving us notes, but those which he does give are very much to the point. Thus under Marvel's Historical Essay touching General Councils, etc., we find the following:—"On the back of the title to the copy here used, occurs in an early hand the following note: 'The following Tract was written by Andrew Marvel, a vicar's son, Latine Secretary to Oliver Cromwell, a pestilent parliament man, in the height of Whiggisme, a great abuser of the orthodox clergy.'" . . . Under Waller there is an interesting letter of Edmund Waller to a friend, in which the poet recommends Christopher Wase as governor to the Earl of Devonshire's son. Some particularly valuable notes are also given from Mr. Quaritch's catalogues. We feel sometimes that Mr. Hazlitt could have given much more information than he has cared to vouchsafe; for instance, when he informs us that The Man in the Moone was licensed to Joshua Kirton and Thomas Warren, 1 Aug. 1633; he might have added that the book was published and reprinted, and that the name "Domingo Gonsales" is a pseudonym for Francis Goodwin, Bishop of Hereford. We must also complain that the authors' names are not always arranged under the best form. To quote a few instances: "Comines," "Quevedo," and "Fontenelle," are all set down under the prefix De; and still worse, Sir Balthasar Gerbier will not be found under G, but under Douvilly.

We might pick out many plums from this volume, but we will content ourselves with saying that there are few pages without some racy titles, and that while interesting and useful in itself, it is a most remarkable addition to our small collection of bibliographical works. Whenever the time comes (and we hope it may not be in the very distant future) for the publication of a new Bibliotheca Britannica, the researches of Mr. Hazlitt will help to make the work easier of fulfilment. In the meantime these Collections will be found most useful and interesting to all those who use them, and we hope these will be a numerous body.—The Bibliographer, June, 1882.

Mr. W. C. Hazlitt's second series of Bibliographical Collections and Notes (Quaritch) is the result of many years' searches among rare books, tracts, ballads, and broadsides by a man whose specialty is bibliography, and who has thus produced a volume of high value. If anyone will read through the fifty-four closely printed columns relating to Charles I, or the ten and a-half columns given to "London" from 1541 to 1794, and recollect that these are only a supplement to twelve columns in Hazlitt's Handbook, and five and a-half in his first Collections, he will get an idea of the work involved in this book. Other like entries are "James I," "Ireland," "France," "England," "Elizabeth," "Scotland" (which has twenty-one and a-half columns), and so on. As to the curiosity and rarity of the works that Mr. Hazlitt has catalogued, anyone who has been for even twenty or thirty years among old books, will acknowledge that the strangers to him are far more numerous than the acquaintances and friends. This second series of Collections will add to Mr. Hazlitt's well-earned reputation as a bibliographer, and should be in every real library through the English-speaking world. The only thing we desiderate in it is more of his welcome marks and names, B. M. Britwell, Lambeth, etc., to show where all the books approaching rarity are. The service that these have done in Mr. Hazlitt's former books to editors for the Early English Text, New Shakspeare, Spencer, Hunterian, and other Societies, etc., has been so great that we hope he will always say where he has seen the rare books that he makes entries of."—Academy.

- 9727 VAN DER LINDE's Haarlem Legend of the Invention of Printing by Lourens Janszoon Coster, critically examined by Dr. Van der Linde; translated from the Dutch by J. H. Hessels; with an Introduction and a Classified List of the Costerian Incunabula, royal 8vo. xxviii and 170 pp. sd. 7s 6d 1871

Mr. Hessels has done well in translating Van der Linde's careful investigation and proofs of the utter falsehood of the Haarlem Legend of the "Invention of Printing."

Only 50 copies remain for sale.

- 9728 GUTENBERG: was he the Inventor of Printing? An historical Investigation embodying a Criticism on Dr. VAN DER LINDE's "Gutenberg," by J. H. HESSELS, 1 vol. 8vo. xxviii and 202 pp. hf. morocco, 21s 1882

The best and most critical account of the History of Printing with movable type. Every document connected with the History of the Invention of Printing has been verified by the energetic and intelligent author. The mystery still remains—who was the inventor of Printing? That Gutenberg was an early printer Mr. Hessels fully admits.

Only 200 copies were printed for sale.

Mr. J. H. Hessels, the translator of Van der Linde's "Coster Legend," commenced a series of articles about two years ago in the London Printing Times, under the title of "Gutenberg: was he the Inventor of Printing?" being a review of a more recent work by the same author entitled "Gutenberg." The articles came to a sudden termination, the writer finding it necessary to consult various documents abroad in order to arrive at certain facts. The long silence which intervened has at last been broken by the appearance of a handsome volume, now before us, in which Mr. Hessels has endeavoured to clear up the mystery so long surrounding the identity of the first printer—and in order to this he paid two visits to Paris and spent seven weeks in Germany exploring the libraries and archives of Strassburg, Mentz, and other prominent cities. While it is impossible to resuscitate the corpse of the mythical Holland prototypographer Coster, the result of Mr. Hessels' researches do not justify him in giving Gutenberg the credit of inventing the art, but only establishing the fact of his being a printer—and he regrets that after all his labours he must leave the quest on which he started yet unsolved, summarizing the result of his investigation in the following statement :—

“As early as (Nov. 15) 1454 two printers were at work at Mentz ; the name of one of them may have been Johann Gutenberg (perhaps subsidized by Johann Fust), but it is not stated anywhere ; the name of the other is, in all probability, Peter (Schoeffer) de Gernsheim. That the latter did not consider himself to have been the first, or even the chief, printer (of Mentz), seems sufficiently clear from what we may call his own statement, in the imprint of the Justinianus of 24 May, 1468, in which he speaks of two Johannes. One of these Johannes must have been Johann Fust ; who was the other? Everybody says Gutenberg, and I am in no position to contradict it.

“A very complete account is given of several books from the press of the Brothers of Common Life, not heretofore described ; and a photograph of a page of an Eltville book, the type of which has never been before noticed.

“Mr. Hessels' volume is one of great value to whoever may hereafter follow in his wake, and a real acquisition to the history of printing. The work is elegantly produced by Bernard Quaritch, consisting of xxvii, 201 pages, octavo, printed on hand-made paper, Roxburghe binding—only 200 copies printed for sale.”—The Quadrant, Pittsburgh, U.S.A., June, 1882.

“Every one interested in the early history of printing must read Mr. Hessels' book itself. It is both destructive and constructive : much of the ground upon which the claim for Gutenberg was raised, is cleared away, but still nothing is discovered that actually destroys that claim. In his work of destruction Mr. Hessels has constructed a solid foundation of bibliographical fact for others to follow up by further researches.”—The Bibliographer, August, 1882.

- "This Catalogue is a Collection of Old Documents, Manuscripts and Books, relating in some way or other to Hungary and exhibited for a few weeks in the Galleries of the Academy of Budapest. The most remarkable feature was the extraordinary and really gorgeous assemblage of about seventy Manuscripts having belonged to the Library of Mathias Corvinus. Most of them are now in Hungary, the Sultan having made us a gift of them for the sympathies we showed for Turkey during the Russian War—an undoubted bibliographical success!—Other Manuscripts were sent from Vienna, Munich, and even St. Petersburg.
- "Then there was the almost complete series of old books printed in the Hungarian language from 1535 till the beginning of the Eighteenth Century—about 2000 in number. Then a few fine Manuscripts and early printed books, sent by Public Libraries, Convents, and a few amateurs. By means of the index you will find the fine collection of Manuscripts and fifteenth-century books of Nagy-Appony and also some books I have sent.
- "I quite understand your wish that Hungarian publications should be rendered intelligible to European readers. (I suggested the adoption of the English language for all literary purposes.—Q.) I am afraid there is very little hope that things will ever change in this matter; international Reviews will doubtless one day remedy the evil as far as possible."—Count A. Apponyi.

Après la mort de Mathias, les rois Wladislas II et Louis II s'occupèrent fort peu de la bibliothèque. En 1526, après la prise de Bude tous les trésors y compris la merveilleuse bibliothèque, tombèrent entre les mains des turcs, qui dans le délire de la victoire, ne respectèrent ni les écrits de Cicéron, ni les miniatures d'Attavante.

Aucune histoire, aucune chronique ne nous a gardé les détails de ce terrible pillage.

Tout ce que nous savons, c'est que les Turcs envoyèrent à Stamboul et dans diverses bibliothèques de la Grèce nombre de volumes qui leur semblaient précieux et qu'ils ravagèrent le reste, arrachant l'or et les pierres précieuses qui en ornaient les couvertures.

A l'heure où nous écrivons, les bibliographes connaissent 107 volumes aux armes du roi Mathias. Tous proviennent incontestablement de la bibliothèque Corvine, et ils sont dispersés dans les différentes bibliothèques de l'Europe.

La bibliothèque de l'Université royale à Budapest expose 13 volumes provenant de la Corvine. Ces volumes forment le splendide cadeau que S.M.I. le Sultan Abdul Hamid II a fait tout récemment à notre pays.

In February, 1873, a preliminary intimation of this work was published. Various other notifications were issued from time to time, until the actual production of the first instalment in January, 1876, in The Printing Times and Lithographer. In this publication it has ever since appeared monthly, and is still being continued.

The Compilers have limited the signification of the word "Printing" by rejecting photographic printing, calico printing, telegraphic printing, &c., as irrelevant processes which are not utilized for literary purposes. In fact, the works cited are those treating of typographic, lithographic, copperplate printing, &c., with the cognate arts of type-founding, stereotyping, electrotyping, and wood-engraving. The subjects of Paper and Bookbinding are not included, although it would have been an interesting task to deal with them, as would also have been the case with Copyright and Laws regulating the Press; but, though they bear very closely on the subject, they seem to belong rather to the results and outcome of printing than to printing itself.

The several books cited are arranged in Alphabetical order under the names of the writers, in every case wherein the authorship is noted on the title-page or was known to the Compilers; the names in the latter case being inserted in brackets. Anonymous works are placed according to the wording of the title, the first noun in such cases determining the alphabetical position in this Bibliography. Every system of arrangement is open to objection; but it is hoped that the one adopted will best facilitate reference to any book required, and therefore will prove more convenient than the chronological method; but in several cases wherein it is interesting to mark the evolution of a subject during successive years, an historical note has been given for the purpose. The article on "Koster," for instance, summarizes the theories of various authors who have written on the subject of the "Haarlem Legend." Investigation, it is hoped, has been rendered easier by the employment of cross references.

Great pains have been taken with the annotations, which, the Compilers venture to think, form, as a whole, a valuable collection of material towards a future History of Printing. In some instances by personal research, in others by correspondence of authorities, official and private, in various parts of the world, a very large number of hitherto unrecorded facts have been collected, while some important verifications or corrections of statements hitherto generally accepted have been secured. In this way the Compilers have endeavoured to present a considerable amount of matter which the future collector of historical facts will find acceptable,—and, indeed, necessary. There may be mentioned, for example, the section devoted to SOCIETIES, which embodies materials for an account of the trade organizations of printers for above a century. It is largely founded on original documents not hitherto described, and on reminiscences and the collections formed by one of the Compilers, who, himself a printer and the son of a printer, had for many years taken an active part in the transactions of the Master Printers' Association of London. Either as a member of various committees appointed to legislate on the current trade movements, or as Chairman of this Association, he has had opportunities of practically acquainting himself with contemporary trade politics, as they affected both employers and employed. The historical value of such details, although not always appreciated, ought not to be underrated, for the events here recorded have, during the present century, considerably influenced the conditions under which the art of printing has been practised, and, to some extent, affected its products in this country.

These pages have been illustrated by a large number of interesting cuts, derived from various sources. Most of those representing the printers' devices were engraved with his own hand by Mr. J. PH. BERJEAU, and originally published in his little volume on "Printers' Marks," and in his Bookworm. Both of these works being out of print and almost unattainable, the blocks were required, and they are here given in order, under the names of the printers who used them. Indeed, these pages are enriched with probably the largest and most representative collection of delineations of typographical monuments, and of portraits of notabilities, that has ever been presented in one work.

Special attention is drawn to the many original Biographical Notices that are given of English and Foreign printers; these have been obtained under exceptionally favourable circumstances. See, for instance, in Volume I, the articles on BEWICK, BOWYER, BULMER, CASLON, CAXTON, DIDOT, ENGELMANN, ENSCHEDÉ, FIGGINS, FRANKLIN, GUTENBERG, HANDSARD, KOSTER, LEEU, and others.

BLOCK-BOOKS.

- 9958 APOCALYPSIS SANCTI JOHANNIS, sm. folio, the most celebrated of the early Block-Books, xylographically printed on 48 leaves, the engravings coloured, with some minute worm-holes; bound in silk, embroidered with a design of the Virgin crowned by God the Father, morocco back and borders, from the Seymour Kirkup library, £200.

About A.D. 1440-50

This Block-Book is of the edition which is ranked by Heineken as second, by Sotheby as fourth, in chronological order of production. The least that can be said of it, is that it offers the most ancient example of German wood-engraving that is likely to be seen for a long space of time.

The first two leaves have a somewhat doubtful look and are either supplied in facsimile, or else extracted from another copy.

- 9959 ARS MORIENDI: Facsimile Edition of the Block-Book: THE ARS MORIENDI (editio princeps, circa 1450), a reproduction of the copy in the British Museum, edited by W. H. Rylands ; with an introduction by G. BULLEN, Keeper of the Printed Books in the British Museum, 4to., 24 artistically reproduced facsimiles, eleven of them exquisite full-page designs, of the original Block-Book, by F. C. Price (pub. at £1. 11s 6d), cloth, very few remain for sale, 24s

Holbein Society, 1881

"This Block Book consists of twelve separate sheets of two leaves each, printed on the inner side only, so that the recto of folios 1, 3, 5, etc., and the verso of folios 2, 4, 6, etc., are left blank, and folios 2 and 3, 4 and 5, etc., could be pasted together to form respectively a single leaf. The impression was taken in pale brown ink, by rubbing. There are eleven illustrations, each occupying a whole page, on the verso of folios 3, 5, 7, etc.; the explanatory letterpress being given on the recto of folios 4, 6, 8, etc. Folio 1 verso and 2 recto contain the introduction, in 30 and 29 lines respectively. Every leaf is surrounded by a border of 3 lines, of which the top and rights sides are shaded on folios 1-13, 15, 17, 19, 23, the bottom and left on folios 14, 16, 18, and the top and left on folio 24. Without title-page or pagination. Folio 13 verso has in the corner the sign. γ. which is the only signature occurring in the book. On folios 14, 16, 18, 24 (text) the letter u is always written ū. This edition is believed by Weigel and others to be the first edition of this often-repeated work, by reason of the beauty and originality of the designs, and the sharpness of outline, which proves the impression to be an early one."

The above is a reproduction of this Block Book, executed in facsimile with the pen, by Mr. F. C. Price, and transferred to the stones, from which it has been printed. As a specimen of facsimile art it is a perfect marvel, and shows at once the superiority of this kind of reproduction to the photographic process ; as any one may see comparing it with the photographic reproduction of the present work, published by Weigel himself in 1869.

Among the treasures acquired by the British Museum at the Weigel Sale, at Leipsic, in 1872, by far the most important was this celebrated copy of the "Ars Moriendi," a Block Book executed in the best style of art prevalent at the time of its production, perfect as to the number of its leaves, and in a marvellous state of preservation.

For this remarkable production the trustees paid the sum of £1072. 10s, exclusive of commission, being the highest price ever paid by them for any single xylographic or printed work.

9961 BIBLIA PAUPERUM sive Historiæ Veteris et Novi Testamenti, in figuris: the celebrated Block-Book, designs and text impressed by hand, in distemper, on 40 pages, square sm. folio, eight pages in facsimile, but all the rest in fine and genuine condition, bound in olive morocco extra, by Rivière, £300.

Holland, about A.D. 1450

From the shape of the letters there can be little doubt that this is a work of Flemish or Dutch, rather than of German, production ; notwithstanding the fact that there exists issues with a German text. According to Graesse, the designs are by Roger of Bruges, one of Van Eyck's scholars. The pages bear signatures, thus ; a-v, and .a. to .t., and amount altogether to 40, but as the blank backs are pasted together, except for the first the last page the number of leaves is only 21. The facsimile pages are a, b, c, d, e, and .d., .e., .v., and are so admirably done as to cozen all but the sharpest eyes.

This is the edition which is usually considered the first of this famous Block Book, one of the best of those peculiar productions, and also supposed to be one of the earliest.

Giovanniandrea Varuassore, Vinegia, Laus Deo, s. a. (circa 1510)

The excessive rarity of a complete copy of the OPERA NOVA, the sole Block-Book in Italian known, has led bibliographers into some confusion in their descriptions of the volume. The fact is that there were about three distinct issues.

- 9963 BIBLIA PAUPERUM, reproduced in facsimile from a (xylographic) copy in the British Museum, with an Introduction by J. P. Berjeau, atlas 4to. 40 leaves of facsimile and preliminary text, (pub. at £2. 2s), hf. bd. 24s 1859

- 9967 CROSS (Holy): Geschiedenis van het heylighe Cruys; or the History of the Holy Cross, reproduced in facsimile from the original edition printed by J. Veldener in 1483, text and engravings by J. Ph. Berjeau, sm. 4to. 33 leaves of facsimiles, bds. 16s 1863

- 9968 SPECULUM HUMANÆ SALVATIONIS: le plus ancien Monument de la Xylographie et de la Typographie réunies, reproduit en facsimile avec introduction historique et bibliographique, par Berjeau, impl. 4to. the facsimile contained on 62 leaves of specially prepared paper, cloth, £2. 1861

This is a facsimile of the edition partly in movable types and partly block-printed, which Mr. Berjeau with singular defectiveness of reasoning considers to have preceded the edition wholly printed with movable types; although it must be plain that the xylographic portion, occurring where it does in the middle of the book, was only engraved to supply the deficiency of movable types for a second edition.

- 9969 DIE STREITER CHRISTI, sm. 4to. 14 leaves, of which nine contain full-length wood-engravings of an angel and the Eight Champions of Christ, beginning with St. Baldwin, with xylographic legends, and five leaves bear text, 30s Mainz, 1430 (about 1820)

The text is in ten rude lines, which seem to read: "Wir streiter Christi wol uns schla'n Die weil wir fir uns den himel han Got schirme fir der wehr zu seiner und zu unser ehr." It is a manifest forgery of modern times.

- 9970 SOTHEBY (S. Leigh) PRINCIPIA TYPOGRAPHIA: the BLOCK-BOOKS, or Xylographic Delineations of Scripture History, issued in Holland, Flanders and Germany, during THE FIFTEENTH CENTURY, exemplified in connection with the Origin of Printing, with an attempt to elucidate the Paper-Marks of that period, 3 vols. folio, 120 large engravings, some in colours, in exact similitude to the Block-Books, hf. morocco, uncut, £7. 1858

- Only 250 copies were printed of this most important publication, the necessary companion to "SOTHEBY'S Principia Typographica, 3 vols. folio, 1858," but executed with infinitely more critical sagacity and learning.
- Every distinguished Collector of Books and Prints, and every Public Library must have this book, as the standard work of information and reference on the subject of the History of Printing before the art of printing with movable type was invented by GUTENBERG at Metz.

EARLY PRINTING.

"Inventas et qui vitam excoluere per artes

Quique sui memores alios fecere merendo.

Omnibus his niveâ cinguntur tempora vittâ."—Æneid.

"As the fame of the improved mode of printing at Paris is spreading (and indeed we must own is deservedly spreading) throughout Europe, it is satisfactory justice to declare the claim of our country to the invention.

"So long ago as the year 1744 there was a SALLUST printed at Edinburgh, not in the usual mode of single letters, in movable types, &c., but with an apparatus of letters formed, as it were, with copper-plates, whole pages at once. The printer was Mr. WILLIAM GED, working goldsmith in Edinburgh.

"The title, substantially, as above mentioned, is as follows:

C. CRISPI SALLUSTI
Belli Catilinarii et Jugurthinii
Historiæ.

EDINBURGI—W. GED, Aurifaber Edinensis,
Non typis mobilibus ut vulgo fieri solet, sed tabellis seu laminis fuis, excudebat 1744.

"This we understand to be the present practice of DIDOT at Paris; which, referring to the Greek word, the adjective for such consolidation, he calls the STEREOTYPE.

"Further interesting particulars, as to this little work of GED's, a candid analysis as to its specific merit, and a comparative statement of what has been done by DIDOT, will be given in a future paper.

"What other pains were taken by our countryman GED to be correct, may be imagined from this single fact—that, as each page was struck off, it was posted at the University doors, with a notice, that whosoever could find an error, and correct it, should have a reward—part of the reward was a gratuitous copy of the book."—An old Newspaper Cutting.

Caragoça, B. de Nagera, 1548
So excessively rare that it was unknown, even by hearsay, to Salvá, who, when citing at second hand the edition of 1550, says that that was probably the first edition of the work. COLLATION: A 2 leaves; B-I in eight leaves each. The missing leaves are G 1, G 5, G 7, and there is a slight defect in D 5. Signature H ends with the seventh leaf, which is the last of the Calligraphic specimens, and was followed by a blank leaf.

At the end there are added, from the 1550 edition, 14 leaves, chiefly of text, concerning the materials to be used in writing.
- 10026 YCIAR, sm. 4to. a different edition, undated, wanting 14 leaves out of 58, £2. 10s (about 1560)

BOOKS PRINTED ON VELLUM

arranged in chronological order of impression

[For the HORÆ or LIVRES D'HEURES, printed on vellum,—see post in catalogue of Theology].

- 10027 DURANDI RATIONALE DIVINORUM OFFICIORUM. - Colophon: Presens raconalis dinor' codex officor' . . . large folio, Printed on Vellum, the initials painted and ornamented, very large copy, in old English blue morocco extra, gilt edges, in a red morocco case, from the Sunderland Library, £850.

Per Johannē fust ciuē Magūtīnuz, et petrū Gernsheym. Clericum dioces' eiusdem. Anno dni Millesimo quadringentesimo quinquagesimo nono . . . (1459)

In these days of iconoclasm and uncertainty, it is a comfort to possess a noble volume like this, bearing its date and printers' names in full, and maintaining the undisputed honour of being the third book printed with a date.

The book itself has long remained a work of standard authority on the history of the Roman Church discipline, the origin and meaning of the various forms of the ritual. It is a creditable monument of scholastic learning in the thirteenth century, and is still indispensable to a correct understanding of the symbolism of all Christian ceremonies.

This was the oldest printed work in the grand Sunderland collection, and is likely to remain, for the next half century, the oldest dated book that can appear in the market.

- 10028 BIBLIA SACRA LATINA, 2 vols. folio, the First dated Edition of the Bible, in double columns, having 48 lines in each column, Printed upon Vellum, a magnificent copy, in old crimson morocco gilt, £1800.

Colophon, in red ink: Pñs hoc opusculum finitū ac cōpletū, et ad eusebiam dei industrie in civitate Maguntū per Johannē fust civē. et Petrū Schoiffher de Gernsheym clericū dioces' eiusdem est consūmatū. Anno Incarnacōis dñice mccccxii in vigilia assumpcōis gl'ose Virginis Marie: beneath which (also in red) is the device of the double shield 1462

EXCESSIVELY RARE; THE NOBLEST WORK OF FUST and SCHÖFFER'S PRESS. Although preceded by the thirty-six line and the forty-two line Bible, this has a certain superiority over them in the possession of a colophon declaring the date and the place of impression; while as those are without any such indication, we are left to conjecture and inference with regard to their origin. Thus the present edition can never lose its claim to pre-eminent importance (whether from the standpoint of Biblical interest or of typographical archæology) as being the first dated Bible which issued from the first printing-press in the world. The present (the Sunderland) copy is in every respect a most desirable one, being large, sound and perfect in every particular (size $16\frac{3}{8} \times 11\frac{3}{4}$ in.). The numbers of the chapters, the headings of the books, and the small capitals are painted in blue and red, and the large initials are ornamented and painted in red, white and blue.

- 10029 CICERONIS . . OFFICIORUM liber [primus, secundus, tertius;] Ciceronis PARADOXA, small folio, Editio Princeps, Printed on Vellum, very fine large copy in old crimson morocco, with ornamental gilt tooling in compartments; in an olive morocco case, £300. Johannes Fust Moguntinus, 1465

THE FIRST CLASSIC PRINTED and one of the first two books in which printed Greek characters appear. The present copy is one of the earliest ones before the Shields were added beneath the lines of Horace on the last page. (The copy in the Spencer Library belongs to the later issue.) The large initials are ornamented, and the capitals are painted in blue and red; and there are running titles written in red at the top of each page. The size of this copy is $10\frac{1}{4}$ by $6\frac{7}{8}$ in. The colophon is printed in red ink, and runs as follows:—

“Presens Marci tulii clarissimū opus Johannes Fust Mogūtinus civis. nō atramēto. plumali cāna neqz aerea. Sed arte quadam perpulchra Petri manu pueri mei feliciter effeci finitum. Anno M.CCCC.LXV.”

- 10030 LIVII Historiarum Romanarum decades i. et iv. 2 vols. folio, Printed on Vellum, contemporary oaken binding, covered with stamped leather, in two red morocco cases, £800.

Venet. VINDELIN DE SPIRA, 1470

THE FIRST PAGE OF EACH VOLUME IS EXQUISITELY ILLUMINATED IN THE CHOICEST ITALIAN STYLE, consisting of floreate scroll work and ornamental vases with entwined handles in green on a rich gold ground; the initial to Book I being a full-length figure of an Armed Warrior in pale blue, in a floreate letter of crimson on a golden ground; in the centre of the right hand margin is a highly finished miniature PORTRAIT of a Venetian noble of military rank; and on the lower margin the DONATO Arms upheld by two cupids. The first initial to Book IV consists of two full-length figures of angels holding grotesques, in pale blue on a golden ground; having on the right hand margin a highly finished miniature of another Venetian Commander, and on the lower margin the same Arms upheld by cupids on a gold and crimson ground. Besides these the vols. have 22 FINELY PAINTED AND ILLUMINATED INITIALS. Unfortunately the two volumes comprise only decades I. and IV. (that containing dec. III. being missing). The volume containing decade I. commences with four added leaves of Epitomes of the 10 books WRITTEN IN LETTERS OF BLUE AND GOLD; followed by the text which has 146 ll.; the volume containing decade IV. commences with 3 ll. of Epitomes (lib. xxxi.-xl.), written in blue and gold; then comes the text which occupies 109 ll.; the last two ll. containing the well-known lines of the printer; followed by the Epistle of the Bishop of Aleria to Pope Paul II, and the epitome of the 14 decades, which occupy 23 ll.; and besides these the volumes contain 6 blank ll. The head titles are written throughout in red, and the margins have notes in the same hand.

The wonderful finish of the illuminations in these volumes shows that they are the production of an Artist of the very first rank, dating from about the years 1480-90, and as the Miniaturist Francesco dai Libri (the father of the famous Girolamo) was then painting at Venice, we may venture to assign this noble work of art to his hand. The house of Donato was then flourishing in wealth and power at Venice, to which it furnished a Doge in 1545 (Francesco, whose portrait was painted by Paolo Veronese).

The Livy of Vindelin de Spira, on vellum, is of an EXTREME DEGREE OF RARITY, probably not more than 3 copies being known.

- 10031 VALERII MAXIMI Romane urbis iurispitissimi librū FACTOR' ET DICTORUM MEMORABILIŪ . . . folio, First dated Edition, Printed on Vellum, bound in brown morocco extra, gilt tops, from the Didot collection, £150.

In nobili urbe Mogūtina . . . M.CCCC.LXXI (1471)

The present is perhaps the only copy in this state which can be offered for sale during the present generation. It must always be a desirable thing to have a fine book printed on vellum which proceeded from the first printing house of the world.

- 10032 AUGUSTINUS DE CIVITATE DEI, small folio, magnificently printed on vellum, with an exquisitely illuminated first page, and the initials throughout painted and gilt, old crimson morocco gilt, gilt and gauffred edges, £1200.

Venet. NIC. JENSON, 1475

THE LOVELIEST BOOK IN THE ENTIRE FIRST PART OF THE

SUNDERLAND SALE. Whether considered as a faultless specimen of printing upon the finest vellum, or as a book decorated with exquisite illumination, it is one of the most glorious volumes ever produced by an extraordinary combination of zeal, taste, and skill.

The matchless beauty of the book, the purity of the material, the beauty of the typography, the masterly splendour of the decoration, can not possibly be conceived from any description, and an enthusiastic admirer might easily be forgiven if his fancy led him to assign it to the work of angel-hands.

- 10033 BAPTISTÆ DE SANCTO BLASIO solennis et utilis Tractatus de Actionibus et natura earum, large folio, printed upon VELLUM, rough calf, £7. Venet. Erhardus Ratdolt, 1481

Only one other copy printed on Vellum is known, which is in the Munich library. At the end of this volume is bound up a MS. Decree, dated 1479, by Albrecht, Pfaltzgraf of the Rhein, giving judgment in a civil action.

- 10034 HORATII Carmina cum commentatione CHRISTOPHORI LANDINI FLORENTINI, stout sm. folio, Printed on Vellum, with two leaves elegantly illuminated in gold and colours, old citron morocco with gilt borders, in a blue morocco case, £350.

Florentice, per Antonium Miscominum, 1482

UNIQUE. THE FIRST EDITION OF HORACE WITH THIS CELEBRATED COMMENTARY, and one of the finest Italian typographical monuments of the fifteenth century. We can trace no record of another copy on vellum, and Brunet knew only of this copy by report. It commences with the Ode of Politian to Horace on the verso of the first leaf: on the opposite leaf begins the Proemium, which, together with the "Tabula Vocabulorum," occupies 5 leaves. The text then commences and is numbered fols. i-cclxiv, after which come 2 leaves not numbered. Fol. lxxiv is numb. lxiv; cxxxiv is numb. cxxiv. The plain margin of folio clii, and a few leaves are somewhat discoloured; but it is generally in very fine condition. Measures $11\frac{1}{4} \times 8$ in. On the first leaf is written "Hic liber est mei Bartolomei Tom," in a contemporary handwriting.

- 10035 BOSSI (Matthæi) DE INSTITUENDO SAPIENTIA ANIMO disputationes per dies viii, impressum (Bononiæ) a PLATONE DE BENEDICTIS, 1495; IN JESU CHRISTI PASSIONE SERMO, 1495; 2 vols. in 1, sm. 4to. printed on vellum in Roman characters with an elegant illuminated border and 10 illuminated initials, very large and fine copy in old calf, £60.

VERY RARE. Only two other vellum copies are known. Brunet remarks upon the rarity and typographical luxuriousness of the book, of which it is probable only a few copies were printed for distribution among friends. The Sermo de Christi Passione was printed five days later than the other book, and has separate imprint and signatures.

- 10036 GAGUIN. Compendium Roberti Gaguini super Francorum gestis: ab ipso recognitum et auctum, small folio, Best Edition, printed upon Vellum, Illuminated Capitals, large woodcut at the beginning and end, red morocco extra, gilt edges, by Bauzonnet, from the Didot collection, £45.

COLOPHON: . . . impressit . . . Thielmanus keruer . . . in inclycto parrisiouru gymnasio impesis . . . bibliopolarum Durandi Gerleri et Joannis parui. Anno . . . M. quingetesimo. Ad idus ianuarias (1500)

Only one other copy printed upon vellum is known, which is in the Bibliothèque Nationale. The title of this copy looks so fresh and new that some persons have thought it to be a facsimile.

- 10037 C ICERO. In hoc volymine hæc continentvr. M. T. Cic. Officiorum lib. iii. Cato Maior, sive de Senectvte. Lælius, sive de Amicitia. Somnium Scipionis, etc. (CURANTE J. B. EGNATIO) sm. 8vo. (12mo.) Printed upon Vellum, with initial Letters illuminated in gold and colours, beautiful copy in olive morocco, doublé with red leather, outside and inside covered with gold tooling in the Grolier style, gilt gaufré edges, by J. Clarke, with arms and crest of Rev. T. Williams in gold on sides, £84.

Venetis, Aldus, 1517

Only one other vellum copy is known. Renouard's statement that Lord Spencer had a copy has led to the belief in a third, but there seems to be no copy in the Bibliotheca Spenceriana.

- 10038 BABYLONIAN TALMUD. The Book of Section ERUVIN (Mishna and Gemara), with Rabbinical commentaries and appendix, all Hebrew, folio, printed upon Vellum, the text in fine square characters in the middle, the exposition in Rabbinical characters in two outer columns, hf. bd. purple morocco, uncut, £5. (Venet. Bomberg, 1520)

- 10039 CICERONIS Officiorum lib. iii. collatis variis exemplarib. accuratissime recogniti; de Senectute; de Amicitia; Paradoxa; Somnium Scipionis; adjectis ad calcem annotationibus Des. Erasmi, 18mo. Printed upon Vellum, in a very minute Roman letter, ruled with red ink, calf gilt, £31. 10s

Lutetie, arte Petri Vidouei, sumpt. Petri Viartii, 1522

A scarce edition, of which even ordinary copies are seldom seen. No OTHER COPY ON VELLUM IS KNOWN. Contains title (with the mark of the bookseller Viart below); Epistle of P. Danesius, 1 leaf; text pp. 262; annotations (commencing on the reverse of p. 262), pp. 23.

- 10040 LOGUS (Georgius). Georgii Logi Silesii ad inclytvm Ferdinandvm Pannoniac et Bohemiae Regem invictissimvm. Hendecasyllabi, Elegiae, et Epigrammata, 4to. Printed on Vellum, partly in gold, and ruled throughout with red lines, contemporary leather binding; with richly gilt ornamental borders and centre cartouches, within which are stamped the words "FERDINANDO REGI;" "G. LOGUS DEDICAVIT;" in a morocco case, £150. Viennae Pannoniae, 1529

This is evidently the copy struck off for presentation to the King of Bohemia, to whom it is dedicated. The King's Arms are emblazoned on the title. It contains 74 ll. Signs. A-O in sixes and fours. The title, the verses by Gaspar Ursinus Velius on back of title, and some dedicatory lines on Ei and Ii, are printed in letters of gold; and the last leaf contains the Arms of G. Logus emblazoned, with four Latin lines beneath.

Georg von Logau was a respectable member of King Ferdinand's Council, and highly esteemed as a Latin poet by his contemporaries.

- 10041 MAKHZOR: the ancient Rhythmical Prayers of the Jews, in Hebrew, very stout 12mo. beautifully printed in black and gold, with the vowel points, upon VELLUM, blue morocco extra, gilt edges, £10. Bolonia, 1537

This precious volume of Hebrew Prayers, according to the rite of the Roman Synagogue, derives additional value beyond its rarity, from its importance as a collection of the most ancient pieces of festal poetry which are interspersed throughout it, and which are of special interest to students of Talmudic literature.

Presentation copy, with the following autograph inscription: "Andreas Wechelus Nicolai Judici dono dedit."

Only one other copy printed on vellum appears to be known: it is in the Bibliothèque Nationale at Paris. This work, compiled with critical care by a great Byzantine jurist in the fourteenth century, is the foundation of law in modern Greece, and a book of high intrinsic value. It is not a slavish abridgment of the Pandects, but an original and authoritative digest of the older documents, in which the great labours of the sixth century are corrected and supplemented.

- 10043 [WILLIAM of LANGLAND] THE VISION of PIERCE PLOW-MAN, now fyrste ymprynted, sm. 4to. black letter, printed on Vellum, wanting signature I, contemporary autograph of Jane Fitzwylllyam, vellum, £12. 12s R. Crowley, 1550

Only two other copies printed on vellum are known, namely, Earl Spencer's and the Grenville copy in the British Museum. It is a singular thing, however, that the Spencer copy is not described in Dibdin's Althorpe Catalogue, although he had already spoken of it as existing when he printed his edition of Ames.

- 10043* AUGUSTINIANS. EXTENSIO, AMPLIATIO, nova Concessio et Confirmatio Privilegiorum Pii V, in Sacros Ordines; pro Canonicis regularibus ordinis S. Augustini, sm. 4to. printed upon Vellum, green morocco, gilt edges, £2. 8s Romæ, 1567

The only copy known. It has the MS. Signature of Cardinal Orsini, protector of the Order, attested by the Notary of the Camera.

- 10044 SAXTON'S ATLAS OF ENGLAND AND WALES, with the Isle of Anglesea, folio, Unique copy on Vellum of the First Edition, entirely engraved on 33 large leaves, uncoloured, the FIRST ENGLISH ATLAS, £100. 1575-1579

Probably intended for Queen Elizabeth; but Saxton may never have completed it, on finding that he could not get a sufficiently large sheet of vellum for the map of Yorkshire (which, as well as the title and the map of Hampshire, is absent from the series). Even without the two maps, this fine unique copy of the first Atlas of England is equally valuable as a topographical monument and as a splendid specimen of the art of printing on vellum in England three hundred years ago.

- 10045 BRUNI (Ant.) le Veneri, Poesie [Venere Celeste, Venere Terrena, il Pomo d'Oro, 3 parts in 1 vol.], narrow small 8vo. 5 copperplate engravings by CLAUDE MELLAN, old crimson morocco, with rich ornamental tooling; binding slightly damaged, £20. Roma, 1633

PRINTED UPON VELLUM; very rare, only two other such copies being known. The leaves are paged 1-120, including title; then follow 12 unnumb. ll.; then another pagination pp. 1-385, after which comes the Pomo d'Oro paged 1-98; finishing with 5 ll. of Table, etc. The letter-press on a few leaves is slightly indistinct.

- 10046 Denis (St.) VITA, Passio, Sepultura . . . Ariopagitæ Dionysii sociorumque eius: corporum eorundem inuentio ac translatio, per piū regem Dagobertum, Quibus iuncta est dominicæ pre-cationis quædā brevis explanatio . . . IOANNE DOCEO . . . authore, 12mo. printed on Vellum, the only such copy known, in the original veau fauve gilt, £25. (Paris, 1649)

This little known treatise, written in the sixteenth century, but not printed till Claude Baudet published it as above, is of no small importance in the literature of hagiology. It was printed in the Abbey of St. Denis, and is a fine specimen of typography. This was probably the only one executed on vellum, and may have been designed for Cardinal Mazarin, who in that very year was forced to quit Paris along with the young King Louis XIV.

- 10047 TASSO (T.) Opere con annotazioni, 4 vols. 8vo. PRINTED ON VELLUM, UNIQUE, portrait, red morocco, uncut, by Thompson, £3. 16s Milano, dalla Societa dei Classici Italiani, 1804-5

- 10048 ROWLL. The Cursing of Sr. Johne Rowlis Upoun the Steilaris of his fowlis, sm. 4to. six leaves including title and introduction, PRINTED ON VELLUM FOR D. LAING, half morocco, £3. 16s (1823)

- 10049 SCOTLAND. Papers relating to the Regalia (including a true Account of their Preservation by Sir G. Ogilvie of Barras, Bart. 1701), 4to. plates and facsimiles, printed on Vellum, half morocco, £21. Edin. Bannatyne Club, 1829

Only three copies were printed on vellum.

- 10050 GOLAGRUS AND GAWANE AND OTHER ANCIENT POEMS, printed at Edinburgh by W. Chapman and A. Myllar in the year 1508, reprinted 1827 (edited by D. Laing), 4to. black letter, PRINTED ON VELLUM, half morocco, uncut, £80. Edin. 1827

One of the four copies in this state, and one of the five perfect copies. Eighty copies were distributed, all of which except five, were damaged by fire and partially inlaid.

This copy has an extra title to the Tale of the "Tua Mariit Wemen," which bears the words "The thre Wantoun Wyffis." It also has two extra leaves in the "Gest of Robyn Hode."

- 10051 Abbotsford Club:

A very beautiful specimen of modern Vellum-Printing in Gothic Letters. The reprint was made for the Abbotsford Club, and probably only this one copy was printed on vellum, for the editor himself.

- 10053 HEFNER-ALTENECK (J. H. DE) SERRURERIE DU MOYEN-AGE ET DE LA RENAISSANCE, folio, unique copy, printed on Vellum, 84 plates and ornamental capitals, red morocco, super extra, gilt edges, by Petit, in case, £25. Leipzig, 1870

- 10054 SHAKESPEARE'S Venus and Adonis, from the hitherto unknown edition of 1599; the Passionate Pilgrime, from the first edition of 1599; Epigrammes written by Sir John Davies, and certaine of Ovid's Elegies, translated by Christopher Marlowe, edited by Charles Edmonds, small 4to. printed on Vellum (one of the three copies so printed), maroon morocco extra, gilt top, uncut, with the bookplate of William Harrison, £14.

- Isham Reprints, 1870*
10055 APOCALYPSE of S. John the Divine, edited from a MS. in the Bodleian Library (by the Rev. H. O. Coxe), 4to. xviii pp. of Preface, and 46 pages of coloured Facsimile, PRINTED ON VELLUM, in drop case, £21. Roxburgh Club, 1876

The original MS. is an interesting relic of English art at the end of the thirteenth or beginning of the fourteenth century. Of a book of this kind, a copy on vellum is of much greater interest than in most cases of such typographic luxury.

- 10056 THE BOOK OF LEINSTER, sometime called The Book of GLENDALOUGH: a collection of pieces in the Irish Language, compiled in part about the middle of the twelfth century, a lithographed transcript from the original MS. in the Library of Trinity College, Dublin, imperial folio, PRINTED ON VELLUM, with the initials and capitals coloured so as to form an exact facsimile of the original MS. with the preliminary explicative matter added from a paper copy, magnificently bound in brown morocco extra, gilt edges, by Bedford, the sides tooled with ornaments from old Celtic patterns; a very fine book, £40.

The Book of Leinster is one of the most important of the fragments of Irish Literature that have come down to us. In addition to copies of the native prose historic accounts of the Táin Bó Cualnge, the Bórama, &c., it contains a large fragment of an early prose translation of the Historia de Excidio Troiae of Dares Phrygius; many of the poems and prose introductions of the Dindsenchas or legendary and traditional accounts of the origin of the names of places in Ireland; several historic poems, in which the legendary and traditional accounts of the early history of the country are preserved; Irish genealogies and hagiologies; and a great number of interesting stories, illustrative of the manners and customs, the modes of thought, and the state of culture, &c., of the people of Ireland just about the period of the Anglo-Norman Invasion.

- 10090 DEVONSHIRE (WILLIAM VII, DUKE OF) Catalogue of the Library at CHATSWORTH, compiled by Sir James P. LACAITA,
4 vols. royal 8vo. vignettes, cloth

London, printed at the Chiswick Press, 1879

I have no copy of this valuable Catalogue for sale, but students of Bibliography may refer to copy No. 191 presented to me by His Grace the Duke of Devonshire.

Two hundred copies were privately printed on small paper, fifty on large.

By the favour of Sir James Lacaita I had the honour of seeing in August (1882) this grand Library. The manner in which it is kept is a credit to the noble owner; every book is easily got at, and all are in the healthiest possible condition. They have plenty of fresh (no damp) air, and are dusted twice a year.

Why is the spirit of book-collecting almost extinct in England? A visit to Chatsworth House or Haigh Hall, Wigan, would inspire incipient book-lovers to imitate, if not to emulate, the achievements of the Dukes of Devonshire and the Earls of Crawford.

Thomas Grenville, with a General Index. This third part has been drawn up with great care by Mr. Rye, the Keeper of the Printed Books. The general Index to the entire library is a most valuable feature in the present publication. Mr. Grenville, it may be mentioned, died on the 17th of December, 1846, and his magnificent library was received in the British Museum in January of the following year. The first part of the Catalogue of his library, drawn up by Messrs. Payne and Foss, was published in 1842, and the second part in 1848."—Athenæum.

- This Catalogue is made with so much bibliographical accuracy and fulness of detail that it cannot fail to be useful to students and amateurs throughout Europe and America. Most of the copies have been already disposed of.
- Mr. Huth's Library is rich in illuminated MSS. of the most splendid character, and in choice and magnificent specimens of Mediæval and Oriental art. Mr. Huth's collection of Bibles is singularly full; comprising almost every rare edition which is coveted by amateurs. As much may be said of the section containing Works of Travel and Voyages, and including most of the rare pieces which marked the advance of geographical discovery in America and in the East. The rare books in German and Spanish Literature two favourite classes with Mr. Huth—are sufficient in themselves to stamp his library as one of exceptional importance; but his collection of English books in fine bindings is unrivalled: it may be said that in Shakspeariana, and generally in large and well preserved examples of the literature of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, it stands facile princeps.

LIST of HYMENOPTERA, with descriptions and figures of the typical specimens in the British Museum, vol. 1: TENTHREDINIDÆ and SIRICIDÆ, by W. F. KIRBY, 8vo. pp. xxviii and 450, and 16 plates representing 283 figures, all finely COLOURED, cloth, 38s 1882

The object of the work is to give a complete list of all the species of Hymenoptera hitherto described, with references to the literature; to enumerate the specimens at present contained in the British Museum; and to illustrate the most important of them, viz., the types of specific descriptions, many of which are now published for the first time. In the present volume upwards of 2000 species of the family Tenthredinidæ are enumerated, and of the family Siricidæ nearly 100. (See Preface and Introduction.)

Hazlitt (W. C.) Second Series of Bibliographical
Collections and Notes, 8vo. cloth, £1. 16s 1882

"Dr. Johnson, in the preface to the first edition of his great dictionary, spoke of the lexicographer as one of those who 'toil at the lower employments of life;' and we can hardly venture to think what he would have said of the Bibliographer. We believe, however, that Mr. Hazlitt's 'Second Series of Bibliographical Collections and Notes on Early English Literature, 1474-1700' (Quaritch), will receive a hearty welcome from all lovers of books, and particularly from all students of our older English literature. Mr. Hazlitt is no novice at this work; but in this and in his 'First Series,' published in 1876, he has submitted to an amount of labour which none but an enthusiast would undergo. His plan is to give, first, the name of the author when it is known, and after the name the titles of all his works. In these later publications, he says: 'I resolved to construct my bibliographical edifice on the only sure and enduring foundation—to catalogue each book with the book under my eyes.' 'Sometimes the labour,' he says, 'grew so irksome and so exhausting . . . that I thought of abandoning my self-imposed task.' When we remember that a vast amount of the materials here collected has been got at by the inspection of a large number of private libraries, and that many of these have been dispersed during the progress of the work, and had to be followed in their dispersal from place to place, we can form some idea of the labour and anxiety to which Mr. Hazlitt has subjected himself. There may possibly be bibliographers alive who are competent to point out the omissions in this handsome volume. For ourselves we can only accept it with astonishment and gratitude. It is invaluable."—The Daily News, August 14, 1882.

My New Catalogues.

GENTLEMEN who desire to have ALL MY CATALOGUES sent to them, may have them for ONE YEAR on pre-payment of 8s.

B. QUARITCH.

LONDON, 15 Piccadilly, September, 1882.

To my Customers in all parts of the Globe.

I beg to state, that I undertake every kind of literary COMMISSION: it is my business not only to sell books of my own stock, but also to supply any other old books—new books and periodicals—to sell books on commission; or to publish works for the Author.

My long and well established reputation as a bookseller, and my acquaintance with fine, rare, valuable, and useful works of Science and Literature, enable me to execute orders for books—whether in stock or not—economically; while I am frequently enabled to procure articles sought elsewhere in vain at a moderate price.
